

[These are based on the following predictions: attendance in last two remaining classes and final blog post completed; for those of you who haven't done your presentation, inserted in its place was a placeholder presentation grade of the average presentation grades to date (23/25). These are generalizations—the calculations were based on paper grades of 95, 85, 75; a low A (93) vs a high A (100) on the essay does make a difference. But this is a good guide.]
